Beauty & Spa School

Bring your bathrobe, towel and sunbathing suit. Learn about the beauty within you. Acquire holistic care secrets for your face, hair, skin and nails. Learn from a therapist how to give a great massage. Give your friend a pedicure and in return you’ll receive a manicure. Lie back turn on the sounds of the ocean, darken the room and meditate.

Vet for a Week Ages

Explore all the angles of animal care. Learn about kennel maintenance and how to properly groom. Study animal x-rays, and muscle differences between the species. Learn first aid for your pets or injured creatures. Ever thought of becoming an animal sitter? We’ll visit the zoo and other animal spots. Is veterinary care your calling? Find out this week.

Chef School Ages

Pull herbs from our garden, shop for your recipes and really learn to cook with foods around the world. Learn the art of entertaining by catering an international menu for Friday’s Luncheon with your parents. Become independent in the kitchen. Take basic food from everyone’s kitchen, add fun, love and you’ve created a masterpiece. Have fun decorating the restaurant, creating menu and setting the decorum.

Wanta Trade

If you like working with your hands you’ll love this camp! Tools of the trade are important, but the joy of craftsmanship is just as important. Construct a wooden masterpiece with your own hands. Learn about tools, plumbing, wiring, and small engines. Visit the shops that do their craft, and get grease under your nails.

Business Geek

So you love money. Start a small business as a group. Decide product, location, advertising, and design then test the market. Then take your money and learn how to make it, save it, spend it and invest it! Your mom and dad will love you in this camp!

Gogh Picasso Gogh

Creativity is a gift. Take the time to observe, feel and express. You will go on site each day and learn new methods and medium. Expression is a gift that always needs to be explored especially with a few friends!

Lab Rat Science No matter how old you get, you never forget how high something can go! Build things, drop things, throw things. You will challenge yourself and your friends. You mix the potions that blast, pop and explode. We know you want to get dirty! Take time out of a busy schedule and just have fun playing with science. You can make so many friends when we challenge you and test your gaming skills. Find out with your friends and remember we love learning science shhhh...!
